AUDITORS' REPORT

To: The Board of Directors
Kingston Literacy & Skills

We have audited the statement of financial position of Kingston Literacy & Skills (formerly Kingston Literacy) as at March 31, 2010 and the statements of revenue and expenditures, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as explained in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In common with many not-for-profit organizations, the organization derives revenue from fund raising and donations and resource sales, the completeness of which is not susceptible of satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the organization and we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to fund raising and donation revenues, resource sales, excess of revenue over expenditures and net assets.

In our opinion, except for the effect of adjustments, if any, which we might have determined to be necessary had we been able to satisfy ourselves concerning the completeness of revenue referred to in the preceding paragraph, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Kingston Literacy & Skills (formerly Kingston Literacy) as at March 31, 2010 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2010

Kingston Literacy & Skills is a not-for-profit agency that has served the community since 1976. The organization was established in response to a research study, "Reach Non-Readers" that demonstrated the need for a part-time literacy program. A subcommittee of the Kingston District Council for Continuing and Community Education set up the Adult Reading Program, and the Kingston Literacy Council to support it. The Kingston Public Library, the Frontenac County Board of Education and St. Lawrence College were involved in the development and funding of this new literacy service. In 1984, when the provincial funding for literacy programs changed, Kingston Literacy became incorporated as a not-for-profit corporation under the laws of the province of Ontario and is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act of Canada. Beginning in 1989, Kingston Literacy expanded the organizational focus to include the literacy needs of families, particularly of those with young children. During the year, the organization changed its name to Kingston Literacy & Skills.

Kingston Literacy & Skills furthers the growth of adult and family literacy in Ontario and works with other organizations and individuals having a similar goal. Kingston Literacy & Skills is a service delivery agency for government supported services including Literacy and Basic Skills (LBS), Language Instruction for Newcomers to Canada (LINC) and Early Years Services through the Early Literacy Specialists. Family Literacy is supported through foundation grants, provincial and federal project grants, the United Way, donations and Kingston Literacy & Skills' own fund raising efforts.

All of these services assist individuals to develop the essential skills needed for further education and training, employment, participation in their communities, independence, enhanced family literacy and life-long learning. Kingston Literacy & Skills' programs and services are offered through community learning centres located in Kingston, Napanee and South Frontenac and through outreach activities in specific neighbourhoods.

Kingston Literacy & Skills is actively engaged in planning holistic services as a member of community groups including Employment Ontario, Literacy Services Planning and Frontenac, Lennox and Addington Children and Youth Services Steering Committee and its sub-committees.

Kingston Literacy & Skills is also involved in the development of learning resources and in research projects to enhance the delivery of literacy services both within its own ranks and beyond.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

b) Donated services

The work of the organization is dependent on the voluntary services of many individuals. Since these services are not normally purchased by the organization and because of the difficulty of determining fair market value, donated services are not recognized in the financial statements. During the year, 141 volunteers contributed in excess of 6,375 hours.

c) Revenue recognition

The organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenditures are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Revenue from professional services and agency fees is recognized when the service is rendered.

Revenue from resource sales is recognized when the goods are received by the customer.

Revenue from fund raising is recognized upon conclusion of the event.

d) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenditures during the reported period. These estimates are reviewed periodically, and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in earnings in the period in which they become known.

2. Capital assets

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2010

7. Lease commitments

The organization is committed to a lease for office space expiring November, 2013. Minimum annual net lease payments are $88,785. The lease can be terminated with three months' notice only in the event that the organization's government funding ceases.

The organization is committed to a second lease for office space expiring April, 2013. Minimum annual net lease payments are $26,033. The lease can be terminated any time after April, 2010, with six months' notice.

The organization is committed to a third lease for office space expiring June, 2011. Minimum annual net lease payments are $11,220. Due to the short-term nature of this lease, there is no early termination clause.

8. Financial instruments

a) Credit risk

At year end, approximately 62% (2009 - 86%) of the organization's funding and accounts receivable balance is due from Citizenship and Immigration Canada. The organization does not believe there are significant risks associated with collection of these amounts.

Cash and cash equivalents are held in credit-worthy financial institutions.

b) Fair values

The fair values of cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities are approximately equal to their carrying values due to their short-term maturity dates.

9. Capital disclosures

The organization considers its capital to be the amounts included in the balance of net assets. The organization's objective when managing capital is to safeguard the ability to continue as a going concern so that it can continue to provide the appropriate level of benefits and services to the community.

10. Comparative amounts

Certain comparative amounts have been reclassified in order to conform with the financial statement presentation adopted in the current year.
