

Kingston Literacy's Words and Wisdom in the Wilson (2006)

A fund raising series of readings in the Wilson Room, accompanied by amazing desserts

Jan. 17th
Paula Todd

In January 2006, Kingston Literacy introduced a new fundraising initiative, the Words and Wisdom in the Wilson series. It got off to a rocky start, with a brutal storm on our kick-off night, but not even lethal ice sheets could dampen the spirit of our audience that night, or on any of the other evenings.

Feb. 21st
Melanie Dugan

Each of our authors, Paula Todd, Melanie Dugan, Mark Sinnett, Merilyn Simonds and Steven Heighton, provided us with a wonderful opportunity to hear and explore their work in a unique way. Topping that off, our appetites were sated by incredibly delicious treats from some of

March 16th
Mark Sinnett

Kingston's finest establishments. For more information on both the authors and the purveyors of sweets, check the individual media kits on this site.

April 20th
Merilyn Simonds

Here are just some of the amazing people and businesses who contributed to this series: Carynne Arnold, Bread & Butter, Brown's Fine Food Services, Card's Bakery, CFRC, Chatterbook, Chez Piggy, Judith Cleland, Lisa DaCosta, Melanie Dugan, Steven Heighton, Indigo Books & Music, Kingston This Week, Kingston Whig-Standard, Darren MacDonald, Rachel Manno, Deb Nesbitt-Munroe, Catherine Owen, Pan Chanco, Merilyn Simonds, Mark Sinnett, Starbucks, Paula Todd, Cheryl Robinson, Sheila Round, Donna Vinkle, Michelle Warren, and Kelly Wheaton.

May 18th
Steven Heighton

We look forward to holding another series next year, and welcome your comments and suggestions, at admin@kingstonliteracy.com. We can't make any promises, but we will do our best. Please check our website (www.kingstonliteracy.com) periodically for more info about future events.

Special thanks, as well, to:

Indigo
Books Music & Café

THE KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD